On the occasion of Teachers Day, Varanasi Schools' Association had organised Teachers' Felicitation Ceremony at HHI to felicitate teachers for their outstanding contribution in the field of education from Sunbeam Bhagwanpur School Mr. Ajay Adhikari and Ms. Saurabhi Dhawan.

Mr. Ajay Adhikari

Achievement is not all about objective sensitization but about imaging and injecting the motivational self into the other. And what is motivational self all about? It is a creative potpourri of multidimensional ideologues, a spontaneous outflow of positive values and incepting new episteme in the structure of learning. If all these qualities have to be located into one individual then we should all agree over the same name - Mr. Ajay Adhikari, a fantastic teacher, a proficient actor and a prolific Quiz Master and trainer. Mr. Adhikari was felicitated by the Varanasi School's Association with the Best Teacher Award on 5th September, 2015. On behalf of every student and staff members, The Sunbeam Group of Educational Institutions congratulates him.

Miss Saurabhi Dhawan

Human language of expression is not simply limited within the individual phonemical expressions or syntactical organizations. Humanity is blessed with multifaceted, plethora of creativities and art and aesthetics is one of them. Visual arts strongly rely on the claim that expressions always don't require words but simple actions can do the needful. The above statement accurately befits, Miss Dhawan, junior school art teacher of Sunbeam School, Bhagwanpur, who has been mesmerizing the teachers and students with her vast expanse of creativity which not only remains cloistered within the institutional curriculum but paints beyond. She is a highly devoted trainer who not simply works but worships her profession through timely maintenance of the soft boards and teaching the students with utmost enthusiasm. She was bestowed with the Best Teacher's Award from the junior section by the Varanasi School's Association on 5th September, 2015. The Sunbeam Group of Educational Institutions salutes her.

Ms. Jaya Pandey

Ms. Jaya Pandey, PGT Chemistry was felicitated by Varanasi Sahodaya School Complex on the occasion of Teachers Day for her contribution in making the subject interesting and meaningful for students and also raising the standard of school in Board Exam. A keen basketball player and NCC cadet she is outbound by nature, is very jovial and amiable. Congratulations Jaya Maam.

You lure politicians to obey you,
Lose their ethics, ever so true.
Nobody knows where you come from,
Of treachery and misery you cause a maelstrom.
While our nation is constantly developing,
In people's minds you are still festering.
Many wounds you have caused,
The cycle of progress you have paused.
People beg in streets and lanes,
Because you have caused barren plains.
You steal people's loved friends,
You are where all humanity ends.
Some forget their everyday needs,
While some boast of their wealthy creeds.
Policemen lose their honoured liveries,
In my nation you cause vagaries.
You are corruption,
Mother of all miseries.
