From the Desk of Assistant Director explaining the 3 tennets of Sunbeam :

Duty Devotion Discipline

The call of DutyAt Sunbeam , all stakeholders come together in the cumulative Duty of betterment ... Mentors in the classrooms, support staff at various point in the classrooms, support staff at various point in the school and the students as well understand that when Duty calls, there can be no compromise. For a Sunbeam, perfection is the practice of Duty, diligently, unflinchingly, every day for 5 decades.

Devoted to Excel....Excellence is the reflection of undiminished passion to a cause. It propels you to be proactive pioneers the spirit of innovation and stand for your rights. The hand that turn off a running tap, picks up a telescope to unfathom the mystery of space or proudly wears a blue voter's ink of the finger is the hand of a devoted Sunbeam!

Where Rule is CoolIn the chaos of life, order is needed to maintain the equilibrium of mind and heart. Discipline is the redeeming fire that turns Sunbeams to Gold....

The pledge to follow rules with pride and commitment in every walk of life is evident on the campus. The proudly erect students in the investiture, the fine balance of the Yoga team doing asana or the immaculate patience of the bus boarding lines are synonyms of a disciplined life at Sunbeam.

Earth Day

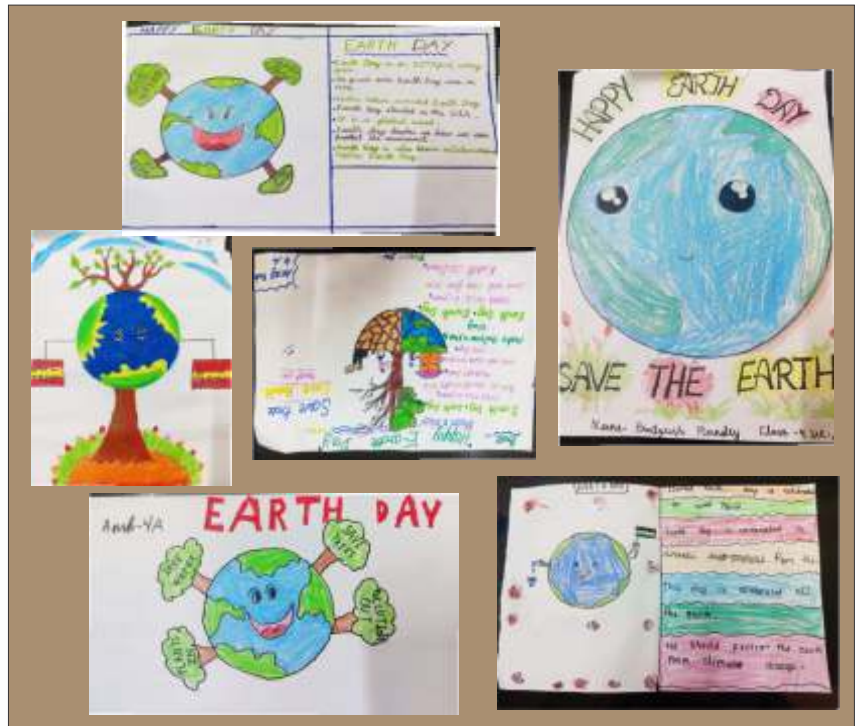

Earth day is the day of celebration, making it happier, healthier and greener planet for generations to come...

It's time to love back mother Earth as unconditionally as she does. World Earth Day is a reminder to us, of the urgency for protecting our planet. The young citizens of Sunbeam Indiranagar pledged to keep their Earth safe & make it a better place for all. Our everyday choices has big impact on Earth.

Here are some small steps that can help planet Earth.

Follow 3Rs: Reduce: Reuse: Recycle

- Use a reusable water container
- Recycle paper
- Turn off the lights when not needed.
- Unplug chargers to save electricity
- Turn off water taps.

Save Soil Campaign

Why save soil??

A human being needs food to live !

As per UNCCD, the world has already lost 52% of its agricultural soil to desertification.

The solution is right under our feet! That's the common ground for all. Sunbeam Indiranagar joined hands with Isha Foundation, spearheaded by Sadguru on a mission to save soil.

Students were told about the alarming situation and the action needs to be taken now. They participated in various activities from writing letter to Honourable Prime Minister to the Save Soil photo challenge, they contributed their bit. It's aptly said by Sadguru that –

“The Soil the soul of all the life upon this precious Planet. Soil the very Conundrum of life and death. The only Magic material that turns Death into life. The Magic of Soil, the basis of all riches of life we see. Depleting Soils can unleash the unfed gastronomic fire to burn and annihilate the very world. Let us not turn this Magic into Tragic”

Parent's Corner

Mr. Alok Srivastava and Ms. Pooja Srivastava (Parents of Chahek Srivastava 6-A)

Why family time is important?

Family time offers many benefits, including building confidence, creating a stronger emotional bond between family members, improving communication skills, better performance in school and reduced behavioral issues, as well as providing an opportunity to make memories, built on fun, laughter and togetherness. All the "core" leisure activities, such as playing a board game, watching television, gardening or playing outdoors and "balance" activities, require a greater investment of planning, time and money. Family vacations or trips to amusement parks or sporting events, can have a big impact on the overall health of a family. According to a research published by the National Council on Family Relations, children whose parents spend time with them and take an interest in their education, tend to do better in school and complete higher levels of education than those whose parents spend their time at home pursuing their own hobbies. According to a study published on familyfacts.org, providing essential guidance through studying and assisting with homework, as well as incorporating educational games, can provide children a positive influence, lead to emotional well-being and help them strive for higher levels of educational success as they grow.

Teacher's Corner

Developing the spirit of "I CAN" in students

Civic education is a gradual progression. It teaches a child about the rights one has as a citizen as well as his responsibilities. It also makes him aware of the problems of his community.

But if the study of civics is restricted to only texts then there is a very little chance of developing the spirit of "I can" in the students.

So the remedy lies on the parents who are the first teachers and then on us as facilitators to develop the civic sense among students. The following steps can be adopted –

- Make child read newspapers and listen to news everyday which would help to relate with the concepts in books.
- Quizzing can be done frequently which can keep one updated about the latest political scenario.
- Activities like youth parliament, mock courts will also provide a platform to the students to expose themselves to the issues.

Visits to civic bodies like police stations, electricity boards would help the students know more about how the machinery functions. Parents involvement should be encouraged. If a parent takes his child to the electoral booth, while casting a vote, it would help a child understand the political process.

An active citizen is the most important ingredient for an ideal country. So let's ensure as a teacher that a child turns out to be an individual who is highly aware and knows his rights as a citizen.
