Lahartara Times dedicated to

OUTGOING BATCH OF CLASS XII - 2017-18

I want to implore my dear outgoing students to always see yourselves as good ambassadors of the school. Do not allow selfish interest to blemish the integrity you have Nurtured over the years in this wonderful institution. Be kind and good to people you meet on your way up. Think big and be optimistic in whatever you are doing.

Deepak Madhok
Chairman, Sunbeam Group

Dear students. You are at an important milestone today of your school life. From here on, you will only soar higher in your personal and professional career. Do remember that the way percentages are important in your career, in the same way 'values' hold a very important place in your life. I wish that all of you achieve a great distinction in life and make your parents, your teachers, your Alma mater proud!

Bharti Madhok
Director, Sunbeam Group

Dear students
You are fortunate to be an important and integral part of young India. This competitive world will give you immense opportunities to create a niche for yourself. Make your future bright with a decisive approach. Firm determination and diligence will help you achieve your goals. Wishing you lots of luck and good wishes for your future.

Harsh Madhok
Honorary Director,
Sunbeam Group

I strongly believe that success is for those who crave for it and success will come your way through your hard work and sheer grit and determination. Challenges will come in your way and opportunities will knock your door. You must be ready to grab it and take its full advantage. Always have confidence and faith in you. Do not let nervousness overpower your strife. You are about to take a new responsibility. Best of luck for your new journey! Go, conquer the world!!

Amrita Burman
Deputy Director,
Sunbeam Group

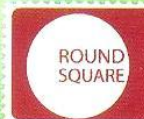

As you leave the four walls of this school, this community and family, it is only appropriate that we bid you adieu with the message that we hope you learn to be yourself always-no matter what the circumstances; be principled and be worthy of trust cultivate the virtue of patience; never be too much in a hurry. When your karma is aligned to your dharma, the results will be liberating. That's what I see in all of you-know-what glowing with excellence in whatever domain you are in.

What I will Miss the Most about the School

It is really startling how much an institution can transform you, for the better, how it can reshape you and mould you into an amazing person, and most importantly, a decent human being. Sunbeam Lahartara has been all that to me, and much more. Right from day one, it has been this wonderful place which has heart fully embraced us into one of its own. From Vinod Sir's fun attitude, to Sanghmitra Mam's sweet nature, I personally have created some astonishing memories worth remembering in the last couple of years. One such set of memories shall be all those volleyball matches I played in the school's court with my classmates. For an hour or so, we used to forget everything, all our problems, all our assignments, every single worry in the world and had so much fun in the game. Quite ironically, the batch which was known for its cut throat competitive nature would magically transform into a bunch of hilarious fun loving guys whose only aim in life was to put that volleyball into the opponent's court. The game really taught us that at the end of the day, the smiles that we all had on our faces after the game were the curves that truly mattered in our lives.

Sunbeam Lahartara A School Which Has Made Me What I Am Today. Being There From Last Seven Years My Journey Was Not Less Than A Roller Coaster Ride. This School Has Given Me Numerous Number Of Opportunities That Today I Stand As The Most Effective Leader & Debater In My School. Also I Am Blessed To Get The Most Amazing Set Of Teachers In My Campus Who Have Not Only Helped Me Come Out Of My Fears But Has Also Guided Me Whenever I Was In Need. I want To Thank All My Teachers For Their Support & Confedence On Me. Special Thanks To Rakesh Sir, Abhishek Sir, Aparajita Ma'am, Arshi Ma'am, Randeep Sir, Archita Ma'am, Vineeta Ma'am And The List Goes On & On. Thank You Sunbeam For Giving Me The Most Amazing Experience In My School Life.

Teacher's Note...

"Goodbyes are not forever,
Goodbyes are not the end.
They simply mean we'll miss you
Until we meet again "

Students become the subject of teacher's actions, target of teacher's thoughts and compliment of teacher's endeavors. It is true that you have been taught by us. However, it is also true that we too have learnt so much from all of you. It was a long journey spent very quickly just because of your will to do something better in future.

- Abhishek sir

I'll miss my outgoing humanities students for their endeavour to inculcate sense of responsibility, ability to solve problems, communication skills, tenacity, inventiveness and of course courage and compassion. I pray to God for their righteous and prosperous life. I am sure they will shine the brightest!

- Jilani Sir

Batch 2017-18..well it can't be expressed in a word or a sentence definitely!

This batch was completely a mixed bag with some childlike kids and some really mature ones. I am going to miss the class the most as it had lots of great moments to cherish.

As I taught many of the students for last four years, they somehow had apprehensions about my next possible reaction if they did something wrong because I was well aware about their gray areas.

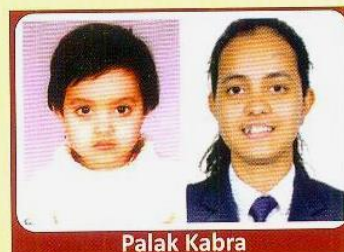

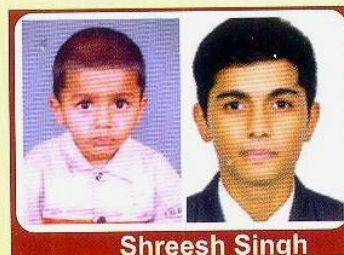

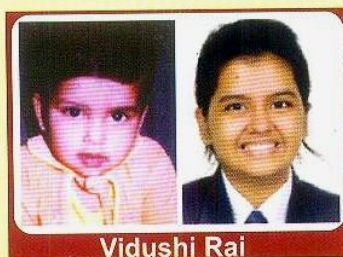

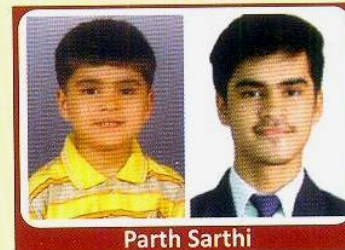

Class XII, I am going to miss you all. Give your best in the final board exams. I know you you have the potential to crack the highest percentage, just keep that Sunbeam zeal alive! God bless!!

-Lata Rao

“I don't want to repeat my innocence.
I want the pleasure of losing it again.”

Joined in the KG section, we are passing out today...

Down Memory Lane

As I look back there are various memories to ponder upon. The stage, the dispersal and morning assemblies, song of the month, class visits, canteen, the corridor, silence time and the list goes on...

I am going to miss it all terribly. The stage that transformed us all in some way or the other.

I still remember the jitters climbing up on the stage for the very first time and now when I walk up confidently I know the difference.

Sunbeam Lahartara has not only shaped us but imbibed in us all the good etiquettes. I am sure, dragging the feet while walking will be a hindrance and I will never forget the teachers telling us not to do so.

These small little things created a big impact on our lives and no matter what we do and where we go. We will carry forward the Sunbeam days.

Anukriti Mundra (XII-D)

No matter how good my college life would be, there is nothing that can match my school days which made me the person I am today! Bidding Goodbye to my school is no easy feat.

Will i ever get to live and sink in the pressure of reaching school just on time?

I'll miss the boy's washroom conversation or rather howling. My juniors, I'll miss you all when I won't get a chance to laugh on your clumsy jokes!

Sunbeam Lahartara, You will be missed each day!

Saif Ali (Vice Head Boy)

I Leave Behind in MY WILL

When I entered Sunbeam Lahartara two years ago, I was very skeptical about how the final chapter of my school life would turn out to be. But with extreme cooperation of the teacher I settled in this beautiful environment in no time. What i liked the most Sunbeam was that the education was not confined to the four walls of classroom. I remember how in class XI Vinod Sir compelled me to take part in 'Impetus' and what a thrilling experience it turned out to be! I had the best set of teachers. Sanghmitra ma'am with her amazing nature made English lessons far more interesting. From chatting endlessly in the canteen to getting the dha-dha-te-te right in the tabla class, the memories i am taking with me are countless.

Last two years have been very special for me. The time has passed so swiftly that it took the blink of an eye to realise that the most beautiful chapter of life is coming to an end. I promise that I would raise the name of Sunbeam to zenith as it blossomed me to face the world in true sense.

Aadya Joshi (XII-A)

The thought that I'll have to leave MY school, MY Lahartara...gives me a mixed feelings of excitement and anxiety. It's like although I am happy to move on, but I really don't know how am I going to move on, with so many memories that will keep me glued to my school. My mind has a permanent folder named 'The best days of my life', which is further filled up with so many sub-folders named "Friends", "Teachers", "Bunks", "Breaks", "Momos fight", "Group studies", "Inter house competitions", "Annual functions", "SUNMUN", "The #effectiveStudentCouncil", "My super cool juniors", "Hamari Perveen ma'am" and more and more with "My school almanac and my school uniform" being the most important folder. Waking up at 6 has become my habit, and now I don't know what will I do if I'll not have to go to school.

I don't think I have to mention anything more to tell how much I'll miss everything and everyone because I can definitely never get a copy of this folder in my college life.

I am indeed very lucky to have something that makes saying goodbyes so hard.

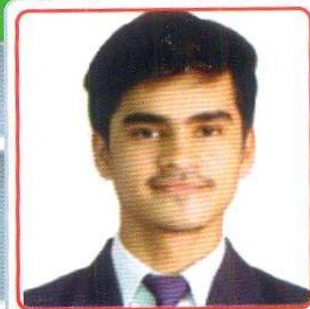

And yes, to all my juniors, no matter how much you think you hate school, you will miss it when you leave, so enjoy your days!!!

Palak kabra (XII-D)

I will miss the stage which has given me ample of opportunities to showcase my talents and shape the person that I am today. I will miss the Computer Lab where I have worked on numerous projects for competitions. I will miss all the teachers right from the kindergarten to Class XII who were always there to support me and point out whenever I did something wrong, whose suggestions are invaluable. I will miss the memories I've created with this wonderful school over the span of 14 years. I will miss the Sunbeams and I will miss Sunbeam!

A Secret I am Sharing for the First Time

Though secrets are meant to be kept but since I am leaving let me tell few of them. Yes, we have sung a lot of songs and danced making sure just on time to sit back on our benches. I have locked the door made everyone head down to prevent Vivek Sir from entering the class.

If it sounds less let me reveal one more to you, Sorry Roy Sir for mimicking you in your absence.

I am leaving behind these classes to come back and relive those moments. I'm leaving behind these corridors to return and run again with same zeal. Finally, I'm leaving behind this write up here to write a new Saga of triumph.

Ishita Rai (Discipline Head)

adios!

Sunbeam, A home away from home, Sunbeam, My armour since 2003 Sunbeam, My favourite spectator to all those pranks in the class. One organisation, one name and so many good days. I will surely miss everything and everyone that Sunbeam has given me. A truck full of thanks to all the mentors who have a great contribution in transforming me into the best version of myself. I will miss all those classroom memories. From putting 10 hands in one Tiffin to going to washroom after every period. School life would not have been this fun without My lifelines! My Fiends. From A for apple B for Ball to C For Credit And D For Debit. From Twinkle Twinkle to Cash flow statement. My entire school life flashes every single minute i think about my farewell from the school. My school. My Sunbeam. My pride.

Vidushi Rai (XII-D)

12 years ago ,I started my journey of sunbeam. And now I am proud that i have completed it successfully.I never thought that I could ever stand as such a confident man , but Sunbeam made me. I would like to thank all my teachers who supported me throughout and became the helping hands in my journey. I will miss all my events SDIPA, CMS events, Sunfest and annual functions. Everybody says "Grab the opportunity", but Sunbeam taught me the way to grab it. Today I stand as a strong, competitive and humble person only because of Sunbeam Lahartara. Thank you Sunbeam.

Uttcarsh dev (XII B)

There are so many things I will miss about Sunbeam but most important thing is the relationship which I have established with my friends here. The hostel gave me second family and a home away from home. Sunbeam Lahartara will always stay in my heart, no matter how far I go..

Aparajita Raj (Hostel Representative)

The days , when a person goes through it thinking when it would get over, are the only days which he misses the most throughout his life, namely "school days". The things I would really miss would be the platform that Sunbeam Lahartara provides, the exposure, the hospitality and the interaction. The three D's indicating that it is not the end, but a beautiful start to the journey called life

Ayush Kedia (Hostel Representative)

Message from Head Boy, Head Girl & Head Prefect

Jai Hind Sunbeams! To me it just seems like the other day, when I was in my middle block reading these farewell adieus and wondering about my time and how it is so far. But look, here it is and I am very close to receive my farewell. These 15 years of journey in Sunbeam from Annapurna to Lahartara has passed. It's been one amazing journey till being the head girl accompanied with many ups and downs both of which will be cherished forever.

Make the most of the opportunities given by the school. Be expressive and always keep your spirits high.

I have quantified the years I have been here but I will never be able to quantify the achievements, the failures, the lessons that I have learnt, the bonds that I have created, spirits that I've lived and skills that I have experienced on and off stage.

Mahek Todi (Head girl)

Sunbeam to me has not just been an institution, it has been 15 years of learning, 15 years of improvement, 15 years of memories, 15 years of my childhood. At this crossroad of life, if I stand tall as a confident individual, I owe it all to 'SUNBEAM'.

Today, from the huge treasure trove of learning which I have got from this place I would share a few which have been my driving factors throughout.

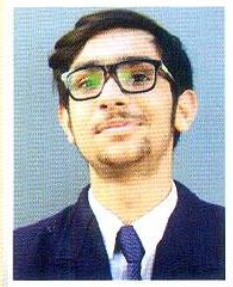

To all my juniors, never put 'learning for tomorrow, what is meant for today should be done today. "Be true to yourself" and most importantly 'keep working hard' as hard work never goes waste.

At last, be a true Sunbeam, and success will come your way. All the very best!

Apoorva Singh
(Head Prefect)

Sitting down to write about my journey at this wonderful place, I feel short of words to express what I am apparently going through. It's a rush of feelings, emotions, memories and experiences that I have gained here will surely lock it tight in my heart forever. I never thought the day would come; I although prayed for its quick delivery, crossed days off calendar, counted every moment and now that it's here. I am sorry! Because it means leaving friends who have held a vital space of my journey, teachers who have been my mentors and source of inspiration with so many people who have shaped my life impermeably and forever. It went by real fast as we never hoped for and I really wish with all my heart, that each one of you cherished these precious moments we have spent together because no matter how much you may want to, you can't come back to the same school days. As much as I've looked forward to this day, I have always disliked endings, but it is an inevitable truth. As Winnie the Pooh said "How lucky I am to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard." These can be the best if you want them to; hold of each opportunity tight, experience every ecstatic, heart breaking moments with open arms, feel the magic and vibrations this place surrounds you with and more importantly let the place reverberate and echo your charm. Get lost in the cosmic divinity this aura consists of because a school is never a mere structure made out of bricks and stones. IT IS MADE OF MEMORIES, SUCCESSES, FAILURES AND A PART OF EVERYONE'S CHILDHOOD. So, better live each day as a roller coaster ride which you surely wouldn't want to get off from.
